

Bars

Not all venues have a bar. You may decide that you will organise the supply of drinks to every table or you may wish your wedding guests to experience a professional bar.

If you do opt for the DIY drinks service you will need a supplier who will advise the estimated quantity of drink you will need and will be able to supply drinks on a sale or return basis. You will also need to source glasses.

A fully stocked bar that you have organised yourself, with a wide range of sprits, beer, wine and other drinks that you would like to provide for your wedding guests may prove to be expensive if you choose to supply these and organise waiting staff.

Mobile bars are usually built to be very versatile. Meaning that they can be set up virtually anywhere you may wish.

For weddings, mobile bars can provide the service of experienced bar staff and a stock of your selected drinks.
